

At New Medical, we combine the most innovative health services in the industry with extended hours and the best customer service around. If you need drug testing with online reporting in minutes and not days, we've got it. If you need customized physical exams based on what the job really requires instead of the one size fits all exams, we've got them too. Tired of occupational health providers who close before you do, we're here late every weekday and Saturdays. When you need on-site drug and alcohol testing, we're just a phone call away.

Because the personalities of your employees are just as important as their physical condition, we offer the Capabilities Awareness Profile (CAP)* evaluation program. If you need a workers comp. provider who offers comprehensive diagnostic and treatment services to heal your employees and get them back on the job quickly, New Medical is the place. We added a completely integrated wellness component to our impressive array of occupational services because you want your employees safe and healthy both at work and at home.

We designed our occupational health programs to respond to the individual requirements of each client. Because every customer is different, we get to know your company before we offer solutions. After all, you depend on your occupational health provider to care for your most valuable asset- your employees. You can't know as much as you need to unless your provider offers truly comprehensive services. THE TESTS YOU NEED AND A WHOLE LOT MORE

New Medical offers comprehensive testing services for all of your applicants and employees. Our drug and alcohol technicians are experienced and certified to meet all of your needs including on-site services in Wichita and the surrounding area. We offer all types of physical exams including DOT and customized exams. In addition to the highest quality traditional services, New Medical provides many innovative testing services including eScreen* drug testing and the Capabilities Awareness Profile (CAP).

JUST A WORD OR TWO ABOUT CAP AND eSCREEN

Before you hire or promote another employee, think about this. Does your occupational health provider really offer the best possible services to help you make the right decision?

The Capabilities Awareness Profile (CAP) can reveal those personality traits that determine success or failure on the job for about the same price as a drug test. Nationally about 40 percent of employers use personality tests to determine if candidates are well suited for a particular job or in what type of work a current employee will be most successful. The total cost of a CAP program for your company is less than the cost associated with a couple of turnovers caused by hiring the wrong people.

The eScreen system is rapidly becoming a leader in drug testing services among Fortune listed companies. The list includes Wal-Mart, Sam's Club, Lowes and Sears to name just a few. eScreen provides proven clinical reliability and on-line reporting of negative results in just minutes. With eScreen, New Medical can collect and test all specimens in our clinic and negative results are reported to you online almost instantly. The only specimens that are shipped out are those that require review. The online reporting system tracks those specimens all the way through the review process including MRO analysis if needed. The system allows you to quickly access and print all documents including chain of custody forms and test result certificates.

THE NEXT GENERATION OF PHYSICAL TESTING AT NEW MEDICAL

New Medical has joined with TheraCare Sports and Industrial Rehab Center to offer customized exams based on the specific physical demands of each job in your company. TheraCare is a leading provider of physical evaluation and rehabilitation services. The routine standardized exams simply don't tell you much about how the applicant or employee will perform when subjected to the unique physical stresses of a specific job. When you purchase equipment, you buy the right item for the job. Our customized physical testing helps you hire the right employee for the job. By combining our analysis of your job site and the specific job description, we prepare a physical agility test that incorporates material handling, positional tolerances and back strength assessment. As we test your applicants and employees, we also provide detailed instruction regarding proper body mechanics to maximize their performance and minimize unnecessary physical stress and injury. Our customized testing process produces a report that tells you how the applicant or employee responded to the real job demands and at the same time helps them understand how to do the job safely. This just doesn't happen with traditional exams. With New Medical and TheraCare, the next generation of physical testing is here for you today!

WORKERS COMP. DONE THE RIGHT WAY

New Medical works with you to avoid accidents and injuries and we're there for you after they happen. We have designed a program to ensure that your employees receive prompt evaluation and treatment so they recover and return to the job just as soon as possible. Our conservative evaluation process ensures that costly and time-consuming diagnostic tests are performed only when they are really needed. We carefully monitor each case and provide regular status updates so you will know how your employees are progressing. We encourage our clients to supply both primary and alternative duty descriptions so we can return employees to work more quickly. The owners of New Medical are also our occupational health physicians. As business owners, they understand that every employee must be productive to remain competitive in business.

THE ART OF MANIPULATION

As you are probably aware, most workplace injuries are musculoskeletal. New Medical adds another solution tool when evaluating and treating these injuries. Our integrated treatment approach includes musculoskeletal manipulation to improve results and speed recovery. In many cases, manipulation produces dramatic improvement without narcotics or traditional rehabilitation. At New Medical, we understand how injuries affect the normal functioning of the muscles and bones and why manipulation is often the best solution. Just another example of how we don't do what everybody else does, we do more!

THE WELLNESS PART OF OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH CARE

At New Medical, we don't think that occupational health is just about testing and caring for your injured and ill employees. While we are very proud of our diagnostic and treatment services, we don't want to show them off any more than we have to. We put employee safety and wellness at the top of the list to reduce injuries and illness and keep your employees on the job instead of in our clinic. Our safety and wellness services include affordable employee immunization programs, health and wellness seminars, workplace and job function evaluations to reduce injuries and repetitive stress and employee health screenings. Give us a call to find out how New Medical helps you stop problems before they start!

NEW MEDICAL MEANS BUSINESS IN OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Because our physicians and practice managers have many years of occupational health and wellness experience in the Wichita area, our delivery system has been carefully designed to better serve local employers. We begin learning from and about our clients even before they become our clients. Our approach blends the best in medical technology and procedures with a thorough understanding of employer priorities.
